Romantic Fools

by Rich Orloff

Relationships between men and women are demanding, sometimes challenging and, often, just incredibly complicated!

SHE wants a romantic date with a bit of adventure, wants to conquer and be conquered, wants to live out her erotic fantasies but within limits, wants to go slow and yet fast, wants a perfect man but the occasional fight, wants a competitor and a loser and wants to get engaged and to marry or maybe not!

HE wants to know what she wants and ... sex mainly.

In a series of hilarious scenes, Rich Orloff charts the highs and lows of heterosexual relationships. From exotic blind dates to unshared erotic fantasies, from dissatisfied partners to a catastrophic marriage proposal, anything goes in this wacky comedy. The new production of the English Drama Group Salzburg promises to knock your socks off and maybe more!
